

April Gallery Exhibit: 100 Dresses

Nicole Bauberger has been working away on her progressive show, 100 Dresses for Juneau April.

Nicole Bauberger will be Painting 100 Encaustic
 Dresses in early April.

Artist-In-Residence Room Needed

The Canvas welcomes artist Nicole Bauberger from the Yukon to our studio and gallery in April. She will be creating 100 encaustic (paint and beeswax) paintings while here and will offer classes to artists in our studio. She is looking for house-sitting opportunities, or a room while she is here. She will be in Juneau from March 30th through April 16th, and needs a place for at least some of her stay. She is a very respectful, tidy, lovely person. Please contact MK MacNaughton (796-7266) if you have any leads or would like more information.

Me, My Guitar and Disability Art

"The most profound emotion experienced in performing my first 'Disability Arts' gig was the unadulterated feeling that I was engaging in debate with an audience of disabled people. This might seem an odd statement in a performance that in terms of the medium, guitar and lyrics, would certainly traditionally be seen as a one way process, and I will try to determine what I mean..." Read full article by Robin Surgeoner at <http://www.ability.com/articles/angryfish.php>.

12x12 Exhibit at the City Museum

A group of REACH artists collaborated on a 12x12 group piece for the March exhibit at the Juneau-Douglas City Museum (open Tuesday-Saturday, 9am-5pm). The art piece, composed of plaster and cheesecloth, is 9 square feet of work stiched together and is entitled "We, Remodeled." The show opens at the City Museum this Friday, March 7th at 4:30pm, and runs through the month of March. Check it out!

Drawing From Nature... For Eaglecrest

Artist and Naturalist Kathy Hocker joins eighth grade student Sydney Reese in inviting the community to create art for Eaglecrest. Sydney is painting a mural for the dining hall at Eaglecrest for her 8th grade ROPES project. If you would like to paint a nature inspired one-foot panel to accompany her mural, please join us Saturday, March 15 from 1-4pm at The Canvas! Please call 907-586-1750 to register.

Shona Strausser will be teaching Beginning Acting starting on March 30.

Space for Beginning Acting is still available!
 Call 907-586-1750 to register.

Dates to Remember

- Mar. 7 – Opening of 12x12 Exhibit at City Museum, 4:30pm
- Mar. 10 – Oil Painting, 6-9pm
- Mar. 15 – Drawing From Nature, 1-4pm
- Mar. 26 – Felting Stones & Intro to Felting, 4:30-7:30pm
- Mar. 30 – Acting Class with Shona Strausser, 3-5pm
- Mar. 30 – Ikebana (Japanese Flower Arranging), 2-4pm
- Mar. 31 – Seward's Day, The Canvas is Closed